2000MG PAIN RELIEF TOPICAL FROM PURE & CURE

Pure & Cure 2000mg CBD Pain Relief Topical is made right here in the USA from some of the highest-quality. Working with industry experts and professionals has made it possible for us to create a truly superior product that is perfect for restoring balance back to your life -- even after the most intense of training sessions.

Made with a proprietary blend of the industry's highest-quality ingredients, our Pain Relief CBD Topical contains 4% Menthol, 0.2% Capsaicin, and a hardy 2000mg of hemp-extracted CBD. The proprietary formula also includes CBG (helps with inflammation) and MSM (methylsulfonylmethane) to help support healthy joints. If you're looking for the best in topical CBD recovery after an intense workout, look no further.

Knowing that your CBD product meets high-quality standards, from purity to safety to milligram content, is important. Here at Purekana, we use third-party, accredited labs to test our USA-grown hemp extracts. We then infuse these extracts into our pain relief topicals, which are tested multiple times throughout the manufacturing process. (You can find the test results right here on each product page).
